President's Message

The global Daikin Group has a long tradition of upholding three Core Values: Absolute Credibility, Enterprising Management and Harmonious Personal Relations. Based upon these Core Values, Daikin Industries, Ltd. ("DIL") has developed Our Group Philosophy, which reflects the fundamental ideas regarding the establishment of our global group-wide Corporate Ethics. These Corporate Ethics are an expression of fundamental values and represent a framework for decision-making.

Some years ago, Daikin Europe N.V. ("DENV") developed the "Daikin Europe Group Handbook for Corporate Ethics", applicable to the whole Daikin Europe Group, including Daikin Europe N.V. and all its subsidiaries, sub-subsidiaries and branches,) based upon the DIL guidelines. In October 2008, DIL broadened its efforts regarding Corporate Ethics and established 15 Daikin Group Compliance Guidelines (see page 8) which served as a basis to update our own version of the Handbook for Corporate Ethics.

In 2016, DIL updated their Corporate Ethics Policy, which inspired us to update our own Handbook for Corporate Ethics in October 2018.

In 2024, we have again updated our Handbook for Corporate Ethics, in particular the section concerning Reporting Incidents (see page 9).

We ensure compliance with our own ethics and the applicable legislation through the description and implementation of Company Rules (including 'Executions') and procedures (including work instructions).

Our Corporate Ethics apply not only to all employees and directors, but also to all consultants, agents and other representatives retained by us. We encourage all our business partners, including our customers and suppliers, to act in line with our Ethical Principles.

Compliance with our Corporate Ethics is vital to maintaining Daikin's company and product image as a responsible corporate citizen, and to achieving our goal of being among the best and most respected companies in the world. As employees, we must always be aware that every decision we make, everything we do, can affect the reputation of our company, and in turn, our own lives and livelihood.

Therefore, every employee must strive to maintain the high standards of our business ethics and personal integrity. We must each be mindful of always avoiding, on and off the job, circumstances and actions that could give even the appearance of impropriety or wrongdoing and that could discredit Daikin. Reasons such as "everyone does it" or "it's not illegal" are unacceptable excuses for violating our ethical principles.

No handbook can anticipate every ethical decision we may face in business. If you are uncertain about what to do, discuss this first with your colleagues or your superior.

It is important that you read this Handbook carefully and ask questions about anything you do not understand.

We know you and your colleagues will take pride in always doing the right thing.

Toshitaka Tsubouchi
President of Daikin Europe N.V.

Masatsugu Minaka
Chairman of the Board of Daikin Europe N.V.

Introduction to the Daikin Europe Group

Handbook for Corporate Ethics

Our Commitment

The purpose of this Handbook is to express our commitment to high ethical and legal standards. We must apply these standards in both letter and spirit. It is the personal responsibility and obligation of each member of Daikin Europe Group to respect these standards of conduct, whether or not imposed by law.

As good citizens, we must observe the applicable law of all countries in which we operate. DENV is primarily governed by Belgian law and European regulations. However, we also do business in other countries. The affiliated companies of DENV are responsible for complying with local legislation. DENV must also ensure that local legislation is respected in non-affiliated sales territories. When there is a conflict between European regulations and the law of a country in which we are active, we shall consult with DENV Legal.

Our Core Values

Daikin Europe Group is part of the global Daikin Group. As such, we strive to be a world-class leader in every aspect of our business. Our core values are:

- Absolute Credibility - a commitment based on trust and openness to building relationships with our customers, colleagues, business partners, and communities;
- Enterprising Management - a commitment to building our company through the initiative and excellence of all employees; and
- Harmonious Personal Relations - a commitment to a workplace in which we all work together with dedication to meet Daikin's goals and challenges.

The law sets forth a minimum necessary level of conduct. We must obey the law, but as our Core Values demonstrate, we strive for a higher standard, even if this can limit potential business expansion.

Our Responsibility to Ourselves and to Others

As a company we are performance driven, determined to deliver on every commitment made to ourselves and to those with whom we do business. In meeting that commitment, we always act based on our high standards of ethics and pursue our goals based on principles of fair competition. We strive to be open, fair, and accountable to each other and to the communities in which we do business. We assure the safety of our operations and establish a sound working environment. We provide high quality to satisfy our customers. We are environmentally concerned and contribute to the communities in which we work.

Each of us is responsible for knowing, understanding, and complying with our Corporate Ethics. Therefore, we aim to create a positive work environment where doing the right thing is also the easy thing to do. Those who do not share this view of company ethics should consider whether they belong at Daikin Europe Group.

In addition, we also encourage our customers and suppliers to respect our Corporate Ethics.

When In Doubt, Take the One-Minute Ethics Test:

- Am I adhering to the letter as well as to the spirit of any law or any Company Rule that may be involved?
- Is this action consistent with Daikin's values?
- Will there be any direct or indirect negative consequences for Daikin?
- Does it "feel" wrong?
- What would my family, friends or neighbours think of my actions? Always act in such a way that you can be proud of your actions.

Reporting a Violation of our Corporate Ethics

If you have any knowledge of a violation of our Corporate Ethics, do not disguise it or bury your head in the sand, because the violation could seriously harm our company if it is not properly managed. Try to resolve the issue by bringing it to the attention of the person involved, if an informal resolution seems possible. If the violation has substantially harmed or is likely to substantially harm someone or the organisation, you are obliged to report it to your direct superior or to any other person that can take appropriate action.

If these communication channels prove to be unsuccessful, you can report any violation of our Corporate Ethics using the Hotline that is available on the websites of DENV and all the DENV subsidiaries.

If anything in the Daikin Europe Group Handbook for Corporate Ethics is unclear, please consult with your superior, your legal liaison or DENV Legal.

Raising Compliance Awareness

We aim to raise compliance awareness at Daikin Europe N.V. through the following initiatives:

1. When In Doubt, Take the One-Minute Ethics Test:

- Am I adhering to the letter as well as to the spirit of any law or any Company Rule that may be involved?
- Is this action consistent with Daikin's values?
- Will there be any direct or indirect negative consequences for Daikin?
- Does it "feel" wrong?

2. Implementation of educational activities for compliance awareness

We are actively developing educational training programmes to ensure our employees are familiar with our Corporate Ethics policies and observe them in the workplace.

3. Trust Team

For Daikin Europe N.V. employees, we have an internal helpline called the 'Trust Team'.

The 'Trust Team' is made up of employees from Daikin Europe N.V., who are available to listen and speak with colleagues who may be going through personal or professional issues, e.g. violence, sexual harassment or psycho-social issues.

You can find more information about the 'Trust Team' on the Daikin Intranet.

Reporting Incidents

Daikin Europe N.V. provides multiple ways to report ethical complaints.

- Employees can contact their manager, or the Hotline as referenced to below.
- Associates and third parties can report violations or suspected violations directly to the Hotline.

Daikin Europe N.V. partnered with Navex Global to provide a Hotline where employees and third parties can report incident anonymously.

This helpline can be accessed by visiting the website <http://daikineurope.ethicspoint.com>. On this website, in the section, "To Make a Report", you can select the country in which you are located, and then you will get the option to either submit a report online or by phone. A country-specific phone number will appear when you select your country.

Reports (both online and by phone) can be submitted completely anonymously. You can also submit the report in the language of your choice. If you call to make a report, then a translator will join the telephone conversation.

Ethical Principles

1. Securing legal compliance

WE WILL ENSURE LEGAL COMPLIANCE BY INFORMING OURSELVES APPROPRIATELY AND BY INCORPORATING THIS INFORMATION INTO OUR ACTIVITIES.

The minimum necessary level of conduct which every company needs to respect is to obey all the applicable legislation, both local and supranational. In other words, every company must at least be legally compliant. It is the basis of corporate ethics. If a company does not comply with the law, it has no credibility in the enforcement of corporate ethics.

The activities of Daikin Europe Group are the result of the actions of each individual within the company and of our suppliers and customers. Therefore, it is everybody's responsibility to comply with the law.

This means we will:

- Inform ourselves about the relevant legislation and the latest legal developments related to our fields of responsibility.
- Incorporate the relevant legislation into our procedures and work instructions.
- Follow these procedures and work instructions, especially regarding export and import related laws and regulations on security export.
- Not enter into any contractual obligation or agreement if we are unsure whether or not it is legally compliant. If we have any doubts, we will consult with our legal department for proper assessment.
- Not misuse any company information (such as proprietary information) for personal benefit.

In order to support us, Daikin Europe's Board of Directors has defined a group-wide Legal Compliance System. Within this system, Company Rules are defined that need to be respected by all employees, since breach of compliance may harm Daikin, both the company and its image. Therefore, if you have any knowledge of non-compliance, you have the obligation to report this to your superior or any other person who can take appropriate action.

For legal compliance in the Daikin Europe Group, DENV will take the initiative and proceed diligently with the preparation of Company Rules for DENV and the group companies.

2. Providing safe, high-quality products and services anticipating the future needs of our end-users

WE WILL ENSURE THE SAFETY AND QUALITY OF OUR PRODUCTS FOR END- USERS, AND WILL OFFER PRODUCTS AND SERVICES THAT EXCITE THEM BY ANTICIPATING THEIR FUTURE NEEDS.

1. Ensuring the safety of our products and services

We strive for end-user satisfaction. We will ensure the safety of our processes and services, as well as the safe use of our products, in full compliance with all safety laws, relevant regulations and standards.

2. Providing immediate and appropriate safety responses to emerging problems

Should a safety problem arise, we will place the highest priority on the safety of our end-users by taking immediate action to contain the problem and prevent the occurrence of a serious accident. These actions can include repairing or replacing the products in question, publicising the problem through appropriate media, and reporting to the relevant authorities.

3. Ensuring a level of quality that is certain to satisfy our end-users

To ensure end-user satisfaction, we will seek feedback from our end-users and gather other quality related information. If a problem arises, we will take immediate corrective action. We will precisely communicate any appropriate information to all internal parties concerned to ensure products and services of ever-higher quality.

3. Conducting business operations based on the principles of fair competition

WE SHALL CONDUCT OUR BUSINESS ACCORDING TO THE PRINCIPLES OF FAIR COMPETITION IN EACH COUNTRY WE OPERATE, WHILE TAKING INTO ACCOUNT ALL THE RULES AND REGULATIONS RELATED TO ANTI-TRUST OR COMPETITION.

Daikin, both as brand and with its products, is in a market leading position. However, we will not abuse our position. Daikin Europe is concerned about fair competition. Therefore, we will always strive to treat our competitors, customers and suppliers correctly and with respect. This includes that we will not, with the intention of restricting competition:

- Enter into any understanding or agreement with any competitor, nor exchange or discuss competitive information with a competitor.
- Impose excessive demands or obligations on our customers or suppliers.
- Use improper or illegal methods to acquire proprietary information of other companies.

We will eliminate, as far as possible, expressions that may mislead customers (including consumers). We will communicate correct information to them. We will avoid giving misleading price indications to our customers, relating to our products.

4. Practising fair procurement by maintaining friendly yet challenging and competitive relations with suppliers

WE WILL MAINTAIN FRIENDLY YET CHALLENGING AND COMPETITIVE RELATIONS WITH SUPPLIERS. IN ADDITION, WE WILL PRACTISE FAIR PROCUREMENT AND NOT ABUSE OUR STRONG BARGAINING POSITION.

Daikin Europe Group works with many other companies and organisations. When selecting suppliers, we will open our door to companies worldwide to provide fair and equal business opportunities. We will look for suppliers and business partners that support our values and ethical principles, and that support our commitment to quality. We will avoid those who violate the law or fail to comply with the sound business practices we promote.

In addition, we will encourage fair competition among our potential suppliers, contractors and vendors, and deal equitably with all. We will practise fair procurement without abusing any strong bargaining position we may have.

5. Respecting intellectual property and confidentiality of proprietary information

WE WILL RESPECT THE INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND INFORMATION OF OTHERS, AND SAFEGUARD OUR OWN INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND INFORMATION.

1. Respecting Intellectual Property

Intellectual property consists of trade secrets and the following rights: patent, trademark, design patent and copyright. These four rights are subject to publication for protection.

We will respect all valid intellectual property rights of other companies. Therefore, we will take steps not to infringe other companies' intellectual property rights. In addition, the intellectual property rights of Daikin Group are an important asset. Therefore, we shall strive to use and maintain Daikin's intellectual property rights in a consistent way so that we can protect them in an effective manner if necessary.

2. Respecting the Confidentiality of Proprietary Information

Proprietary information includes confidential information on, for example:

- Design data
- Drawings
- Development themes
- Product plans
- New business developments
- Alliances
- Mergers & acquisitions
- Selling prices
- Cost prices and the like
- ...

We will respect the confidentiality of proprietary information of Daikin Group and of other companies by adequate controls so that the information is not disclosed.

Therefore, proprietary information – considered confidential – must be handled appropriately (e.g. by entering into a non-disclosure agreement with a third party, by storing paper versions in a drawer or a cabinet placed in an access-controlled room, ...).

The above matters require professional handling. Please consult your legal liaison and DENV Legal when you need to act.

3. Monitoring Abuse of Intellectual Property

At Daikin Europe Group, with DIL's full support, we will monitor our and other companies' intellectual property, so that appropriate countermeasures can be taken in case of infringement.

When we observe abuse in the market of the Brand 'Daikin' (logo) and any Daikin trademarks, including alteration, we will consult with our legal liaison and DENV Legal before taking action.

6. Timely and appropriate disclosing of corporate information

AS A SUBSIDIARY OF DIL, DAIKIN EUROPE GROUP HAS FEW LEGAL OBLIGATIONS TO COMMUNICATE CORPORATE INFORMATION OUTSIDE OF THE COMPANY. HOWEVER, IN ORDER TO DEVELOP OUR ORGANISATION AS A RELIABLE, TRANSPARENT AND OPEN COMPANY, WE WILL COMMUNICATE WITH ALL STAKEHOLDERS AND DISCLOSE CORPORATE INFORMATION IN A PROACTIVE AND TIMELY MANNER.

A feeling that an accident or disaster might occur or is about to happen often precedes the actual occurrence of an accident or disaster. Therefore, we will report such feelings to management.

In addition, we will check our workplaces daily to detect potential causes of accidents in order to implement further accident prevention measures.

3. Taking appropriate action immediately after the occurrence of an accident or disaster

Should an accident or disaster occur, we will take appropriate action to help our colleagues and to prevent the spread of the accident or disaster. In addition, we will immediately take measures to prevent a reoccurrence.
